

Attention FDA

0232 '00 MAY -4 110:44

It came to my attention that the FDA is being asked to take away my right to sign a medical waiver before purchasing a hearing aid. Instead I would be forced to have a medical exam or hearing test. Here's my views and/or experiences on several related questions?

1. Should I be forced to have a medical exam and/or hearing test before purchasing a hearing aid? If so, should the FDA pay for the exam?

No Way, what is this - Russia? Our government has its nose in everything that doesn't concern it and it can't keep its own floors swept.

2. Some people are physically unable to drive to a doctor or hearing specialist, or have had bad experiences they don't want to repeat. For instance ...

You have a Bad Back and then have to sit in a Doctors office for 2 hrs to get to see him for 3 minutes, a Tech does all the work.

3. Should the FDA take away my Constitutional Right, affirmed by the Supreme Court, to decide for myself my medical exams and treatment?

Absolutely Not.

4. Should I be allowed to purchase hearing aids by mail as I choose?

It's my money and who the hell is the government to tell me how to spend it?
