Hi,
I read that the dairy industry is attempting to take the word "milk" for itself alone. I oppose this attempt of expropriation.

There's coconut "milk", oat "milk", seals "milk", goats "milk", soy "milk", etc. Cow's "milk" should be labelled as such to differentiate it from say "mother's milk". This is just another example of monied interests' attempt at a monopolized use of words.

Help retire the phrase, "The Best Laws (A) Money Can Buy"!!

Best Wishes,
David Jones
