Subject: veterinary use of phenylpropanolamine

Gentlemen:

Please, please do not take phenylpropanolamine hydrochloride off the market for veterinary use.

My dear, wonderful 12 year old dog is incontinent. She is a house dog and will have to be euthanized if I cannot get PPA to control her incontinence. For such pets PPA has been a miracle drug, and any attendant risk is far better than euthanasia.

Please take action immediately so many beloved pets will not have to die. For them this is a life or death emergency.

I have only two week's supply of pills left, and my veterinarian says he cannot get me any more.

Please, please, please take action on this.

Thank you,

Bee McCormack
