5630 Fishers Lane, Room 1061, Rockville, MD 20852

Dear Ms. Henney:

I support the legal petition to the FDA to take all genetically engineered foods off the market until they have undergone lengthy and rigorous safety testing. I feel betrayed and angered by the FDA's assurances that genetically altered foods are safe, although they have not been adequately tested and long-term effects are not known. I am further outraged that the companies that sell genetically engineered foods or use GE ingredients in their products are not required to label their products. Lest you have forgotten, I wish to remind you that the FDA's obligation is to protect the consumer from products that carry possible health risk, not to provide blind and unquestioning support to the mercenary pursuits of big business.

Sincerely,

Jeanne Thomason
