RE: Docket No. 00N-1396 & Docket No. 00D-1598

February 2, 2001

Dear Commissioner,

I imagine that the weight of corporate pressures, technological optimism, and business-as-usual is very heavy when it comes to the regulation of genetically engineered foods.

But I encourage you to take a go-slow approach and really hear the loud, but scattered, voices of Americans who are saying: we are scared of the potential threats of genetically engineered foods; we have a shaky, but real, hope that the government will really be out to protect us, rather than rubber-stamp the profit interests of a few huge corporations.

Please require mandatory pre-market safety testing of GE foods.

Please require mandatory pre-market environmental review of GE foods.

Please require mandatory labeling of GE foods.

Thank you,

Joshua Brown
