Dear Members and Food Importers

President George W. Bush signed into law the Bioterrorism Act 2002, which includes a large number of provisions that will affect the way we all do business. The section that most concerns us, as importers and international traders, in particular is Title III, Subtitle A (Protection of Food Supply) and Subtitle B (Protection of Drug Supply) which the US FDA is responsible for carrying out. We have pinpointed the areas of concern and offered our comments.

We will be submitting the concerns and comments to the US FDA. We would like you to do the same by placing your letter head on the petition and submitting it to the address on the petition by April 4, 2003.

We need every ones help in this matter. The Bioterrorism Act 2002 will go into effect on December 12, 2003. Hopefully, by sending this petition, we will be able amend some of the provisions to make the implementation as painless and smooth as possible for all of our members.

Sincerely,

Jacklyn Sher

The following pages of comments are obtained from the Food Trade Association with the help of Jackie Sher so that your company would follow the same procedures as above to submit your petition of comments to the Headquarter of the Food & Drug Administration before the deadline of 4-4-03. This is to put in your concerted efforts as Food Trade Importers in Los Angeles to object, to modify the provision as indicated in the new law. Please use your express mail if possible. Thankyou very much.
