Re: Docket No. 2006N-0065

Written Comments Submission for Public Workshop on Emerging Clostridial Disease

To Whom It May Concern:

The attached Judicial Watch Special Report: "The Clinton RU-486 Files" provides key background for the "Public Workshop on Emerging Clostridial Disease."

The Judicial Watch report contains recently uncovered documents that shed new light on the Clinton administration's aggressive drive to push RU-486 to market in the United States. Judicial Watch obtained the documents from the National Archives at the Clinton Presidential Library in Little Rock, Arkansas in February 2006, shortly after the archives allowed public access to Bill Clinton's presidential papers.

The documents show that FDA was compromised in its role as an objective reviewer of the safety and efficacy of the drug, because of its active role in brokering a deal between pharmaceutical firms and an abortion rights foundation. These new documents highlight how the FDA made a series of political decisions, in consultation with the Clinton White House and the Health and Human Services Department, that resulted in a dangerous drug being placed on the market. (The five standard requirements for certifying a drug "safe and effective" were circumvented to rush RU-486 to market.)

At least six women and 560,000 unborn children have lost their lives due to the Clinton administration's reckless drive to bring RU-486 to America. This dangerous abortion pill needs to be pulled off the market immediately.
