

The isomaltulose methods for yogurt, carbonated soft drinks, and tablets, contains confidential and proprietary trade secret information as well as confidential business information and has been removed based upon request of the petitioner.