EPA and DHA from Omega-3 oils are important components of the brain, are concentrated in the retina, and are necessary for the production of anti-inflammatory prostaglandins. Scientific studies show that EPA and DHA may support: cardiovascular and ocular health, healthy blood pressure levels, brain function, and normal inflammatory response.*

Increased intake of Omega-3 fatty acids is necessary to balance the excess Omega-6 oils in our diets, largely due to the use of commercial oils in foods.*

Rejuvenation Science™ Omega-3 Neptune Fish Oil represents a quantum leap in quality, purity and stability. Through careful selection of raw material and extensive purification, the risk of contamination from environmental residues such as heavy metals, pesticides and PCB's is removed. Guaranteed by assay, every softgel will contain less than half of one ppm of PCB's, cadmium, arsenic, mercury, and lead."
