PART 3 – DESCRIPTION OF REQUIREMENT

Background

Pacific Northwest Laboratory’s (PNL) Mycotoxin Program requires rugged sample preparation equipment, such as is provided by the Geno/Grinder described in this Statement of Work (SOW). Currently, the mycotoxin analysis program dictates that collections from multi-pound or multi-ton shipments have a “representative sample” of four to fifty pounds submitted for laboratory analysis. These foods and feeds have a wide variety of textures from liquid through coarse, fibrous, gritty, and very hard. For the actual analysis, the submitted food or feed material must be ground or otherwise reduced in particle size to create a fine, homogeneous mixture. This size-reduction is critical. Historically, a ten- to fifty-gram portion is then taken for the actual chemical analysis. Currently, with harmonization of the mycotoxin program, analytical sample sizes will be reduced even further; to one gram. This makes sample homogeneity and small particle size even more critical. Consequently, the harmonized Standard Operating Procedure for sample preparation specifies the requested item as one of the pieces of equipment to be used by all the mycotoxin laboratories.

Purpose

Augment existing equipment used for particle size reduction, a ball mill such as the requested item, has been shown, in both mycotoxin and other testing programs, to be effective for either direct particle size reduction or to provide supplemental particle size reduction after initial product grinding.

PNL expects to use the requested equipment to generate finely-divided, homogeneous samples of submitted food and feed samples which can be used for chemical analysis work by this laboratory.

Requirements

The requested equipment must be heavy duty and must be capable of rapidly reducing the size of a large variety of hard, coarse, and fibrous foods and feeds (including such items as shells and husks) to very small particle sizes. Previously processed material, whose particle size has not been sufficiently reduced may also be treated by this process. The requested equipment should accomplish this with a minimum of heat generation.

Technical Specifications:

At a minimum, the Geno Grinder shall meet or exceed following specifications:

- Equipment must accommodate up to sixteen (16) 50 milliliter vials or two (2) 750 milliliter jars at a time
- Equipment shall have an adjustable speed of at least 1500 strokes per minute
- Equipment shall have an integrated timer, adjustable to at least twenty (20) minutes.
- Equipment shall operate with power requirements of 115 volts and 60 Hz.
- Equipment must conserve existing laboratory space and fit in a foot print no greater than 14" x 22" (Width x Depth).

Trade and Service Specifications:

- The instrument must be a newly manufactured unit, not used and refurbished or previously used for demonstration.
- FOB Point destination to include inside delivery and clean-up of area after installation.
- The entire system must be warranted for parts and labor for twelve (12) months from the date of formal government acceptance. The vendor must also be capable of servicing the instrument through the covered warranty period. The system must include at least a one (1) year warranty and shall include at a minimum: coverage on all non-consumable items and parts supplied including base instrument, factory-certified replacement parts, engineer labor and travel costs. Any equipment repair, and maintenance work shall be performed by an OEM-trained engineer. This factory-trained engineer shall have (verified by the OEM) the following: 1) access to OEM factory telephone support; 2) access to the most current OEM factory training for both hardware and software components; and 3) access to all current OEM factory parts, not build-to-order parts. The OEM-trained service engineer shall not use salvaged parts from other instruments for performing maintenance and repairs. All parts used in PM and repairs must be guaranteed, factory-tested, OEM quality parts.
- Instrument operators shall have access to a technical representative call center at no additional charge, for technical assistance and trouble-shooting, which is staffed by senior engineers to provide a high level of expertise for troubleshooting the instrument.

Records and Reports

- The Contractor shall, commensurate with the completion of each service call relating to the first-year warranty, provide the end-user of the equipment with a copy of the field corrective service report identifying the equipment name, manufacturer, model number, and serial number of the equipment being repaired and detailing the reason for the warranty call, a detailed description of the work performed. The parts and the test equipment used to repair the system shall be on the report. This will include the name (s) and contact information of the engineer who performed the repair, and for information purposes, the on-site hours expended, and parts/components replaced.

Technical Acceptability: The Government will evaluate the degree to which the quote meets or exceeds the requirements and specifications described in this solicitation. The Offeror's quote shall demonstrate the ability to “meet or exceed” the technical specifications of this requirement. Quotes will be rated either “Technically Acceptable” or “Technically Unacceptable.”

This RFQ does not commit the Government to pay any costs incurred in the preparation of the submission of the quotation or to contract for the supplies or services.
