Patient visits the clinic and provider deems patient in need of testing.

Provider orders the test using the paper test requisition form or online practice portal. Sample is then collected by the patient in the clinical setting according to the device’s included instructions.

Provider attaches an identifying label to the sample and places sample in biohazard bag with the patient’s test requisition form.

Provider ships the biohazard bags with all of the collected samples from the day to Phosphorus Diagnostics laboratory in Secaucus, NJ. Package must be shipped overnight.

Once ready, the ordering physician will receive a notification that the results are available. Results will be sent to the physician via encrypted email, fax or Phosphorus portal. Physician will share results with patient.
