

10/15 Discussion Question:

Question 1) Taking into consideration the limitations of the study design and sample size, please discuss any general observations that can be made regarding the data on heterologous boosters presented by NIH from their Mix and Match Booster Study.