Introduction

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is the regulatory, scientific, public health and consumer protection agency responsible for ensuring all human and animal drugs, medical devices, cosmetics, foods, food additives, drugs and medicated feeds for food producing animals, tobacco and radiation emitting devices safe, and effective.

The mission of the Center for Drug Evaluation and Research (CDER) is to perform an essential public health task by making sure that safe and effective drugs are available to improve the health of people in the United States. CDER regulates over-the-counter (OTC) and prescription drugs, including biological therapeutics and generic drugs.

The mission of the Office of Generic Drugs (OGD) and its sub offices are to ensure high-quality, affordable generic drugs are available to the American public. OGD is the world leader in the science and regulation of generic drugs serving an essential role in advancing FDA's public health mission.

The Office of Generic Drug Policy (OGDP) serves as the Agency's lead on generic drug policy and regulation to enable generic drug approvals and provide the public with high quality, affordable medicines. We achieve this by advocating on behalf of the generic drug program and providing counsel in a complex, ever-changing legal and regulatory environment.

The Division of Legal and Regulatory Support (DLRS) mission is to advise the OGD on generic drug application specific legal regulatory and policy issues during FDA implementation of Section 505(j) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic (FD&C) Act. The DLRS is responsible for providing expertise on generic drug regulatory issues at both the Center and Agency level.

The Division of Policy Development (DPD) mission is to provide strategic leadership and direction in the development, clearance, and implementation of regulations, guidance, policies, procedures, and other documents affecting the regulation of generic drug products. The DPD collaborates with all FDA offices supporting the generic drug program to ensure timely implementation and fulfillment of FDA's commitments pursuant to the Generic Drug User Fee Amendments (GDUFA).

The Regulatory Counsel positions are located within OGDP's Division of Legal and Regulatory Support and Division of Policy Development.

Duties/Responsibilities

As a Regulatory Counsel, the incumbent develops policies and programs involving the most complex and highest priority matters affecting the regulation of generic drug products. Drafts or critically reviews documents that state or interpret Center or FDA policy for the regulated industry and other effected groups, embodying policy and program proposals and decisions on these products.

- Reviews policy and other regulatory documents drafted by other offices that impact generic drug regulation. Drafts revisions and technical corrections to new and existing regulatory documents.
- Serves as an expert consultant on the generic drug regulatory review process within FDA and to other interested groups.
- Reviews petitions and other correspondence from the regulated industry and other interested persons that raise issues that have an effect on the generic industry and FDA's regulation of generic drug products. Leads and coordinates the Office consult response to correspondence and petitions, and clearance of, these petitions.
- Manages and resolves a broad range of issues concerning the implementation of FDA's enabling statutes, including those related to generic drug regulation and the Hatch-Waxman Amendments to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic (FD&C) Act, pertinent regulations, guidance documents, standard operating procedures, and other policy documents related to the regulation of generic drug products.

- Researches and resolves regulatory issues related to information that is published in FDA's Approved Drug Products with Therapeutic Equivalence Evaluations (Orange Book).

Security Clearance Requirements

Background Investigation/Security Clearance Requirements:

If not previously completed, a background security investigation will be required for all appointees. Appointment will be subject to the applicant's successful completion of a background security investigation and favorable adjudication. Failure to successfully meet the requirements may be grounds for appropriate personnel action. In addition, if hired, a background security investigation or supplemental investigation may be required later.

Applicants are also advised that all information concerning qualification is subject to investigation. False representation may be grounds for non-selection and/or appropriate disciplinary action.

Vaccination Requirements

To ensure compliance with an applicable preliminary nationwide injunction, which may be supplemented, modified, or vacated, depending on the course of ongoing litigation, the Federal Government will take no action to implement or enforce the COVID-19 vaccination requirement pursuant to Executive Order 14043 on Requiring Coronavirus Disease 2019 Vaccination for Federal Employees. Therefore, to the extent a Federal job announcement includes the requirement that applicants must be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 pursuant to Executive Order 14043, that requirement does not currently apply. Federal agencies may request information regarding the vaccination status of selected applicants for the purposes of implementing other workplace safety protocols, such as protocols related to masking, physical distancing, testing, travel, and quarantine.

Ethics Clearance Requirements

This position may require financial disclosure reporting and will be subject to FDA's prohibited financial interest regulation. If you are hired, you may be required to divest of certain financial interests. You are advised to seek additional information on this requirement from the hiring official before accepting any job offers. Reasonable Accommodation

Reasonable Accommodation Policy

Federal agencies must provide reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities where appropriate. Applicants requiring reasonable accommodation for any part of the application process should follow the instructions in the job opportunity announcement. For any part of the remaining hiring process, applicants should contact the hiring agency directly. Determinations on requests for reasonable accommodation will be made on a case-by-case basis. A reasonable accommodation is any change to a job, the work environment, or the way things are usually done that enables an individual with a disability to apply for a job, perform job duties or receive equal access to job benefits.

Under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, federal agencies must provide reasonable accommodations when: An applicant with a disability needs an accommodation to have an equal opportunity to apply for a job. An employee with a disability needs an accommodation to perform the essential job duties or to gain access to the workplace. An employee with a disability needs an accommodation to receive equal access to benefits, such as details, training, and office-sponsored events. You can request a reasonable accommodation at any time during the application or hiring process or while on the job. Requests are considered on a case-by-case basis. Learn more about disability employment and reasonable accommodations or how to contact an agency.

E-Verify

The Food and Drug Administration participates in the USCIS Electronic Employment Eligibility Verification Program (E-Verify). E-Verify helps employers determine employment eligibility of new hires and the validity of their Social Security numbers.
