The Food and Drug Administration (FDA or Agency) is the regulatory, scientific, public health and consumer protection agency responsible for ensuring all human and animal drugs, medical devices, cosmetics, foods, food additives, drugs and medicated feeds for food producing animals, tobacco and radiation emitting devices safe, and effective.

The mission of the Office of Global Policy and Strategy (OGPS) is to protect and promote the public health of Americans by effectively advancing FDA's public health mission globally. Within OGPS, the Office of Global Operations (OGO) oversees the FDA's foreign offices, including staff in China, Europe, India, and Latin America. As evidenced in previous OIG, GAO, and media reports, OGPS has historically had difficulty recruiting and retaining candidates with appropriate skill sets, especially in the foreign offices.
