

CURRICULUM VITAE

Scout, MA, PhD

scout@cancer-network.org

Life work

Building bridges between public health policy and action, with a particular focus on underserved minorities.

Experience

I am an organizational leader/principal investigator with a large toolbox of functional skills at my disposal and a robust network of professional contacts across industry, national, and community-based organizations. I have a strong history with state and national governmental agencies, particularly NIH. My work has been focused on LGBTQI+ health equity, particularly around the topics of data collection, tobacco, and cancer. I have notable expertise in research equity, surveillance, policy, communications, trainings, public speaking, grant writing, media, and science writing. I am excellent at building coalitions, funder relations, developing projects, obtaining funding, then following through with project execution.
