*When only “honey” is listed, the variety/source is not specified or unknown.

 All instances of the dash refer to a sample that was not violative, and no follow-up action was required. Samples found to be violative for undeclared added sweeteners are noted as such. For domestic violative samples, the FDA worked with the firms on corrective actions, including voluntary recall. For imported violative samples, the FDA stopped the shipments at the border. In addition, the FDA placed the associated firms and honey products on Import Alert 99-47 to prevent future shipments of these firms’ honey products from entering the U.S.
