

FDA Staff Manual Guides, Volume I – Organizations and Functions

Department of Health and Human Services

Food and Drug Administration

Center for Veterinary Medicine

Office of New Animal Drug Evaluation

Division of Business Information Science and Management

Effective Date: December 14, 2018

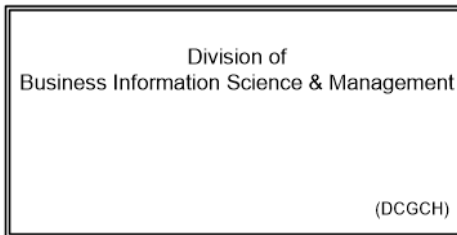

1. Division of Business Information Science and Management (DCGCH)

- A. Facilitates and coordinates the development and implementation of tools and systems to support the regulatory evaluation and approval of new animal drugs for the Center.
- B. Ensures that new animal drug sponsors are in compliance with the financial aspects of the User Fee Acts, prior to the review of their submissions, for the Center.
- C. Serves as the quality management experts within the Office of New Animal Drug Evaluation.
- D. Manages the new animal drug approval process from early development to approval, liaising between animal drug sponsors and the Center.
- E. Provides expertise in records and information management to support mission-related and administrative records for the Center.

2. Authority and Effective Date.

The functional statements for the Division of Business Information Science and Management were approved by the Secretary of Health and Human Services and effective on December 14, 2018.

Department of Health and Human Services
Food and Drug Administration
Center for Veterinary Medicine
Office of New Animal Drug Evaluation
Division of Business Information Science and Management

Staff Manual Guide 1243.17
Organizations and Functions
Effective Date: December 14, 2018

The following is the Department of Health and Human Services, Food and Drug Administration, Center for Veterinary Medicine, Office of New Animal Drug Evaluation, Division of Business Information Science and Management organization structure depicting all the organizational structures reporting to the Division of Business Information Science and Management:

Division of Business Information Science and Management (DCGCH)