Dear Dr. McClellan,

We write to thank you for serving on the faculty of the Medicare Congress that sought to explain the policy and political debate around the new Medicare prescription drug legislation as well as to assess the tactical and strategic importance of the new law to the major participants in the health care marketplace.

We are sure the attendees benefited from your expertise in this field. If evaluations were turned in for your specific session, I have enclosed the attendee evaluation summary, which you may find of interest.

Thank you again for your contribution to the success of The National Medicare Prescription Drug Congress.

Sincerely,
