concepts to be used to develop microbial safety policies protective of the public health. The Framework Document is related to GFI #78 in that it sets out a conceptual risk-based framework for evaluating the microbial effects (related to human health impact) of antimicrobial new animal drugs intended for use in food-producing animals.

The agency invited comment on both GFI #78 and the Framework Document. FDA received more than 50 comments to these documents. These comments originated from a number of sources including individual members and committees of Congress (3); individual physicians, microbiologists, and hospitals (6); individual citizens and organizations representing consumers (16); animal drug and feed industries (3); individual veterinarians and organizations representing veterinarians (5); environmental organizations (3); individual producers and organizations representing producers (14); and another Federal agency (1). In addition to requesting comment from the public, the agency also consulted with the VMAC on this issue. In a meeting held on January 25 and 26, 1999, the VMAC provided input on the Framework Document and addressed five specific questions from the agency regarding its contents. The goal of the meeting was “to find the balance that protects human health and gives veterinarians the tools they need to treat animals.” A transcript of this meeting is available on the CVM home page at the Internet address provided below in section III. Electronic Access.

FDA stated it would review the transcript of the VMAC meeting and any comments on GFI #78 and the Framework Document that were submitted to the agency, publish the analysis, and then appropriately revise GFI #78 and the Framework Document. This guidance document entitled “FDA Response to Comments on a Proposed Framework for Evaluating and Assuring the Human Food Safety of the Microbial Effects of Antimicrobial New Animal Drugs Intended for Use in Food-Producing Animals,” along with the Framework Document, to serve as a basis for discussion at the two workshops and at future workshops.

II. Comments

Interested persons may, at any time, submit to the Dockets Management Branch (address above) written or electronic comments regarding this response to comments. Two copies of any written comments are to be submitted, except that individuals may submit one copy. All comments are to be identified with the docket number 78 and the Framework Document.

III. Electronic Access

Persons with access to the Internet may obtain copies of the document entitled “FDA Response to Comments on a Proposed Framework for Evaluating and Assuring the Human Food Safety of the Microbial Effects of Antimicrobial New Animal Drugs Intended for Use in Food-Producing Animals” contains the analysis of the transcript, the comments received regarding GFI #78 and the Framework Document, and provides responses to the comments.

In the Federal Register of September 27, 1999 (64 FR 52099), the agency announced a general public meeting and two public workshops to discuss issues related to antimicrobial resistance in food-producing animals. The general public meeting was held on October 4, 1999. The first workshop called the “Risk Assessment and the Establishment of Resistance Thresholds Workshop” is scheduled for December 9 and 10, 1999. The second workshop called “Preapproval Studies in Antimicrobial Resistance” is scheduled for February 22 and 23, 2000. The agency intends for the document entitled “FDA Response to Comments on a Proposed Framework for Evaluating and Assuring the Human Food Safety of the Microbial Effects of Antimicrobial New Animal Drugs Intended for Use in Food-Producing Animals,” along with the Framework Document, to serve as a basis for discussion at the two workshops and at future workshops.
