

Classification Topics:

1. Please discuss the proposed classification for the scar management device for the management of hypertrophic and keloid scars. Also, discuss what descriptive information and intended use should be included in the proposed classification identification.
2. Please discuss the risk of possible adverse skin reaction due to lack of biocompatibility for the scar management device and identify any other risks to health for these devices.