It came to my attention that the FDA is being asked to take away my right to sign a medical waiver before purchasing a hearing aid. Instead I would be forced to have a medical exam or hearing test. Here's my views and/or experiences on several related questions?

1. Should I be forced to have a medical exam and/or hearing test before purchasing a hearing aid? If so, should the FDA pay for the exam?

No! I am very capable to determine if I need a hearing test. If the FDA wants everyone to have a hearing test before buying a hearing aid - let them pay for it!

2. Some people are physically unable to drive to a doctor or hearing specialist, or have had bad experiences they don't want to repeat. For instance ...

Buying from a hearing specialist costs twice as much as buying from or through the mail from a reputable dealer.

3. Should the FDA take away my Constitutional Right, affirmed by the Supreme Court, to decide for myself my medical exams and treatment?

Absolutely not! No no no!

4. Should I be allowed to purchase hearing aids by mail as I choose?

yes, I have been very happy with results from Excel Hearing
