

Attention FDA

It came to my attention that the FDA is being asked to take away my right to sign a medical waiver before purchasing a hearing aid. Instead I would be forced to have a medical exam or hearing test. Here's my views and/or experiences on several related questions?

1. Should I be forced to have a medical exam and/or hearing test before purchasing a hearing aid? If so, should the FDA pay for the exam?

No If so FDA should pay for both exam and aid if needed

2. Some people are physically unable to drive to a doctor or hearing specialist, or have had bad experiences they don't want to repeat. For instance ...

I now purchase aid from a mail listing have been given excellent service Had two bad times with specialist

3. Should the FDA take away my Constitutional Right, affirmed by the Supreme Court, to decide for myself my medical exams and treatment?

They should not have anything to do with hearing problem.

4. Should I be allowed to purchase hearing aids by mail as I choose?

I think everyone should have the right to purchase any aid the way they want
