

Attention FDA

It came to my attention that the FDA is being asked to take away my right to sign a medical waiver before purchasing a hearing aid. Instead I would be forced to have a medical exam or hearing test. Here's my views and/or experiences on several related questions?

1. Should I be forced to have a medical exam and/or hearing test before purchasing a hearing aid? If so, should the FDA pay for the exam?

Not ~~nesasary~~ nesasary most people try on it not work out can return it or can get other kind and why not try save the FDA insurance money

2. Some people are physically unable to drive to a doctor or hearing specialist, or have had bad experiences they don't want to repeat. For instance ...

True, and it saves money too

3. Should the FDA take away my Constitutional Right, affirmed by the Supreme Court, to decide for myself my medical exams and treatment?

FDA should stay out of peoples life, The FDA gotta take care other things not this case

4. Should I be allowed to purchase hearing aids by mail as I choose?

yes, it saves money, most hearing aid place are all high price and rip off.
