

SPINALCORD INJURY INFORMATION NETWORKHomeSearchIndex a-zHelpE-mail2. How many people are alive today in the U.S. with SCI?

SCI Topics
▶ Facts & Stats
▶ Medical ▶ Psychosocial
▶ Equipment/Accessibility
▶ Other Issues
▶ Publications
▶ Disability Organizations
▶ Education & Training
● News
● Bulletin Board
● About the UAB RRTC
● Disclaimer & Copyright

Estimates vary, but the generally accepted range is between 183,000 and 230,000 persons are alive today in the U.S. with SCI.

References:

1. DeVivo MJ, Fine PR, Maetz HM, Stover SL. Prevalence of spinal cord injury: a re-estimation employing life table techniques. Arch Neurol 1980;37:707-8
2. Harvey C, Rothschild BB, Asmann AJ, Stripling T. New estimates of traumatic SCI prevalence: a survey-based approach. Paraplegia 1990;28:537-44
3. Lasfarques JE, Custis D, Morrone F, Carswell J, Nguyen T. A Model for estimating spinal cord injury prevalence in the United States. Paraplegia 1995;33:62-68.

Powered by Estrada ©.

© 1998, 1999 University of Alabama at Birmingham.
All rights reserved.