

The isomaltulose purity analysis contains confidential and proprietary trade secret information as well as confidential business information and has been removed based upon request of the petitioner.