Department of Epidemiology. Concentration in Reproductive Health Epidemiology.
Ph.D. received May 1996.

Dissertation: Determinants of Time to Pregnancy in the Ontario Farm Family Health Study

School of Public Health, University of North Carolina - Chapel Hill.

Department of Epidemiology. Concentration in Reproductive Health Epidemiology.
M.S.P.H. received December 1992.

Master's Thesis: Cold Weather as a Predictor of Infant Mortality in North Carolina

Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont.

A.B. received May 1988.

Major: Biology

Minor: American Literary History

PUBLIC HEALTH AND RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Health Scientist, Women's Health and Fertility Branch, Division of Reproductive Health, National Center for Chronic Disease Prevention and Health Promotion, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Atlanta, GA. June 1998-present.

- Contraceptive guidelines development: leads the effort to develop the US Medical Eligibility Criteria for Contraceptive Use, 2010, and [REDACTED]^{(b) (4)} [REDACTED] (forthcoming)
- Contraceptive guidelines development: evidence lead for WHO's Medical Eligibility Criteria for Contraceptive Use and Selected Practice Recommendations for Contraceptive Use
- Contraceptive safety and efficacy: analytic research and technical assistance (World Health Organization, CARE, China, others)
- Analytic research: survival after ovarian cancer; parity and age at first birth as risk factors for cervical cancer; risk factors for adenomyosis; tubal sterilization; contraception risks and benefits
- Intervention research: contraceptive counseling and contraceptive use

- Development of emergency obstetric care training and perinatal health care surveillance system, CARE Community-based Reproductive Health Project, Tanzania
- International reproductive health epidemiology (RHE) training: development of training materials, and organization of and training for RHE workshops

Epidemic Intelligence Service (EIS) Officer, Women's Health and Fertility Branch, Division of Reproductive Health, National Center for Chronic Disease Prevention and Health Promotion, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Atlanta, GA. July 1996-June 1998.

- Analytic projects included the characteristics of adenomyosis among women with hysterectomy; the rate of emergency department visits for gynecologic disorders; seasonal trends in pelvic inflammatory disease.
- Designed and conducted an investigation of decreasing teen pregnancy rates in Maine.
- Designed and conducted an assessment of emergency obstetric care services for CARE Tanzania Community-Based Reproductive Health Project, Kwimba District, Tanzania.
- Co-chair of Reproductive Health Epidemiology working group to conduct international training and technical assistance projects.
- Technical lead from the Division of Reproductive Health for the Sexual Behavior chapter of the Community Preventive Services Guidelines.

Research Associate, Program for International Training in Health (INTRAH), Chapel Hill, NC. September 1992-May 1996. Applied epidemiologic and project management skills to several projects aimed at maximizing access to and quality of family planning and reproductive health services worldwide.

Association for Schools of Public Health (ASPH) Intern, Division of Reproductive Health, Centers for Disease Control (CDC), Atlanta, GA. Performed statistical analyses using SUDAAN software for the Pregnancy Risk Assessment Monitoring System (PRAMS). June 1992-August 1992.

Research Assistant, Department of Health Policy and Administration, School of Public Health, UNC-Chapel Hill. Developed research questionnaire and analyzed data for the study "Infant feeding practices and fertility in Bolivia." January 1991-June 1995.

Instructor, Duke University, Durham, NC. Taught a basic epidemiology seminar for physician's assistant students. May 1994-July 1994.

Teaching Assistant, Department of Epidemiology, School of Public Health, UNC-Chapel Hill. Assisted in teaching "Epidemiologic Research Methods," which covered practical issues of study design and grant writing. Spring 1992.

Research Assistant, Family Health International, Research Triangle Park, NC. Assisted in the analysis of data to investigate the association of Depo-Provera use and cervical cancer. May 1991-December 1991.

Clinical Research Coordinator and Bone Densitometry Research Assistant, Endocrinology Division, Brigham and Women's Hospital, Boston, MA. September 1988-August 1990.

Clinical Evaluation Research Assistant, East Boston Neighborhood Health Center, East Boston, MA. Assisted in study of cognitive function in the elderly by administering neuropsychologic tests, in-home and clinic-based interviews, and physiologic measurements. July 1988-September 1988.

HONORS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

CDC/ATSDR Honor Award, Group Award to Reproductive Health for Refugees, for outstanding performance in International Health, May 2000.

United States Public Health Service Achievement Medal, June 1999.

Delta Omega, Member. Public Health Honor Society. Inducted April 1996.

Environmental Epidemiology Traineeship, UNC-Chapel Hill, NC. June 1994-May 1996.

Carolina Population Center Traineeship, UNC-Chapel Hill, NC. September 1992-May 1994.

United States Public Health Service Traineeship, UNC-Chapel Hill, NC. August 1991-May 1992.
